CAN YOU GUESS.

Here's a Chance to Make
Ten Dollars Easy.

All You Have to Do is Pick the Winners in the Coming
Primary.

Just for the interest attached to a guessing contest and to put a little more interest into the coming campaign for County officers, THE NEWS will give its readers a chance to make ten dollars and have a little fun at guessing on the side.

To the person making the first nearest correct guess of the winners in the Democratic Primary Election which will be held in this county on Saturday, June 1st, 1901, THE NEWS will present a ten dollar gold piece. The conditions of the contest are simple. Old subscribers and new subscribers who pay $2 on their subscriptions will each be entitled to a guess, and to as many guesses as they pay year's subscription. If no one guesses correctly, the first one who guesses the closest to all the winners will receive the ten dollars.

You intend to pay your subscription anyway, and you may as well pay before the first day of June and have a chance of getting your money back, besides gaining the distinction of knowing more about the political situation than your neighbors.

Each guess will be registered when received as to the exact day, hour and minute. No one will be permitted to see how any one else has guessed. In guessing only the offices on the ballot are to be considered.

DE WET'S ESCAPE.

How the Boer Commander Slipped Through the British Cordeon.

A correspondent in Cape Colony gives an amusing account of how General De Wet slipped through the cordeon which the British had drawn around him and recrossed the Orange river on his return from his last raid into the Colony, says the New York Sun.

A British column, it seems, was camped at a place called Voersfontein, about ten miles from Coleberg, and an outpost of five men was stationed away on the right bank on a farm about ten miles nearer the Orange river. The officer commanding the outpost with two men took up a position on a kopje commanding the road coming through a drift on the Sea Cow river, while three men remained below. The night was cloudy, but moonlight shone brightly for De Wet.

Presently the silence was broken by the sound of a voice in the distance singing "Daisy, Daisy, give me your answer true," and a number of voices joined in the chorus of the well known ditty. But who were the singers?

"They must surely be some of our own men belonging to another column," said one of the outpost. The sound of the hoofs of many horses was heard drawing nearer. Then they passed along the road below the kopje toward Coleberg bridge. The three men at the foot lay quiet, and so did those on the kopje, but presently one of the passers came straight to the men below and nearly tumbled over one of them.

"Hello!" he exclaimed. "What are you doing here? Why, he's a Britisher! Hands up!" The Britisher's hands went up, and in a moment he and his companions were prisoners. Then those on the hills were discovered, and one of the Boers called out:

"Come down out of that! You have nothing to fear! We are British!"

"Are you?" replied the officer. "Then send a couple of unarmed fellows to fetch me!"

Firing then began, and the captured men who were let go after the Boers had crossed the Orange river at Leliefontein just below Coleberg bridge, told when they got back how one of the British bullets nearly struck De Wet, who was speaking to them at the time. De Wet sprang to one side and said, "Stand a little this way" as he changed his position.

The writer says that a dozen colonels and about 25,000 men would have given anything to be where that outpost was that night. The officer did not remain on the kopje with his two men when he found what was happening, but mounted and galloped back to camp at Voersfontein to report. In due time the sun rose, and the column started westward to Hamfontein, where it arrived at midday, by which time De Wet, in the opposite direction, was probably crossing the Orange river at Leliefontein.

A conference was held by the commanders of the two columns, after which the Voersfontein column with its cumbersome convoy returned to its camping place by the same way it had come in the morning. By the time it got back the report was brought in that De Wet had crossed the river.

CHINA'S PLOT WITH RUSSIA.

Yung Lu Planned to Break Up the Concert of the Powers.

Advices received at Victoria by the steamer Tosa Maru include a private dispatch from a high Chinese official with the Chinese court at Hsiao or Shing to a Chinese of Shanghai, a translation of which is published in The Morning Post, London. De News. It throws some new light on the Manchurian intrigues and the proceedings between Russia and China, which, according to the dispatch, were carried out by Chinese officials with the hope of provoking a European war. The translation of a portion of the dispatch reads:

"Although it is well known that Li Hung Chang has always been a Russophile, still, for the sake of impartiality, I must say from my personal knowledge of the affair, that the Russian official rumor has spread about Li Hung Chang was the chief mover in the Russo-Chinese intrigues about the cession of Manchuria to Russia is incorrect. In this matter Li Hung Chang was merely obeying the orders of the reactionists at Hsiao under the direction of the arch intriguer and intriguer, Yung Lu. It seems that when Yung Lu found Manchuria at the mercy of the Russians and very likely to be annexed by them at the end of the present troubles with foreign powers, he conceived the idea of luring the Russians away from the concert of the powers by promising the Muscovite special privileges in all the Manchurian provinces if Russia would take the lead in withdrawing her troops from Peking and Chihli provinces."

Contents of the War of 1912 Found. J. T. Sloan of Toledo has received a letter from a friend at Chatham, Ont., which says that owing to the ice jam in the St. Clair river, the Thames, a branch of the St. Clair, is about four feet lower than the average, and as a result three gunboats that apparently had been sunk in the war of 1912 were discovered. Many cannon balls and old muskets were also found. It is uncertain as yet whether the boats belonged to the Americans or the British. It is expected, however, as soon as the cannons are raised some mark will be found which will show their identity.—Philadelphia Press.

A Luxurious Houseboat. Pierre Louillard is having built on the Hudson the most luxuriously equipped houseboat of its kind. It will not have to depend on tows for its movements, as it is equipped with twin screws and can go where its owner pleases.

DR. HERRON'S CASE.

People of Grinnell, Ia., Now Bitter Toward the Socialistic Leader.

The Grinnell (Ia.) Congregational association, which is to try Professor George D. Herron, the socialistic leader whom Rev. Dr. Hillis refused to meet on the same lecture platform, is considerably embarrassed over the disappearance of the petition of divorce and other papers at the court at Algona, says the New York World. Both attorneys, Judge Cook of Cedar Rapids and Clarence Darrow of Chicago, were virtually in the employ of Professor Herron, so that both are interested in keeping the matter quiet until the present excitement is allayed.

According to the clerk of the courts at Algona, the charges were desertion, cruelty and inhuman treatment, the petition alleged being Professor Herron's refusal to live with the plaintiff for a period of six years and the cruelty and inhuman treatment consisting in his traveling about the country leaving his wife at home because of which she suffered nervous prostration.

If Professor Herron makes no defense, the divorce papers will be unnecessary, but if he should they would play an important part in the church trial. However, even if the specific wording of the petition cannot be obtained the specific charges will be those of public report.

Mrs. Herron and four children are reported to have gone to South Dakota. It has been impossible to get a statement from Mrs. Herron as to the amount of alimony given by Professor Herron or supposedly by the Hands, but it is understood upon reasonable ground authority that the amount was $50,000.

This amount is said to have been deposited in the Algona bank to Mrs. Herron's credit, and it is stated that Judge Darrow refused to sign the decree of divorce until this was done. The feeling of the townspeople of Grinnell toward Dr. Herron is that of bitter condemnation. The attitude toward the Hands is equally bitter. When Mrs. E. D. Hand and Miss Carrie Hand a few days ago returned to Grinnell to take up their residence there for the spring, the principal of the musical department in answer to an inquiry informed Miss Hand that she could take no further work in her department.

MRS. MAYBRICK'S CHANCES.

Henry White Considers Agitation Harmful to Prisoner's Interests.

Henry White, secretary of the United States embassy at London, was introduced to the president the other day before the cabinet meeting by Secretary Hay, says the Washington Post. He has taken great interest in the case of Mrs. Maybrick.

"The worst thing that could happen for Mrs. Maybrick," he said, "is for some one to resume the agitation of this case in this country. Her eventual freedom has been delayed by the agitation over here. The revival of the talk has led to abusive letters being sent to the English authorities by people in this country. Even Queen Victoria was the recipient of several letters from enthusiasts in Mrs. Maybrick's cause. I have been working on the case ever since Mrs. Maybrick was sent to prison, and at every opportunity to do something for the unfortunate woman I have exerted myself with every human power in the British cabinet. I have no means of knowing what King Edward intends, but I do not believe he will interfere in the case. The late queen made a strict rule to have nothing to do with capital cases. Mrs. Maybrick is in the Aylesbury prison and is kindly treated. I hear indirectly from her twice a week. Her health is not seriously affected, although she has not been in the best of health. She is fairly cheerful and has a good prison record."

HOUSE OF LORDS NERVOUS.

Rumors That Certain British Peers Will Attempt to Invade It.

American woman suffragists must regard with envy such English women as the Baroness Berkeley and the Baroness Blandford-Courts, who, being peers in their own right, have, in the opinion of many good authorities, a right to sit in the house of lords and to vote with that body.

In the days of the Plantagenets and Tudors peers were often called to meetings of parliament, but the custom died long ago, and recent difficulties with the Irish members would be a mere summer zephyr compared with the parliamentary storm that would be roused should some modern peers demand her rights.

Just at present the matter has been brought to the front by a rumor in connection with the coming coronation, which is the one topic of conversation in English upperdom, says the New York Sun. It is said that certain peers in their own right intend to demand the privilege of being present at the coronation as actual members of the house of lords and to have their trains carried by pages as the lords do.

Society's New Game, Siberian Whist. The London Express says that Siberian whist seems to be causing a certain amount of interest among the varieties of bridge, but up to now is not much understood in England, although it is very much in vogue at Constantinople and in Russia. It can be made a much more gambling game than bridge, as in the former, the players can outbid each other in the making of trumps, and the consequent penalties on the losing of tricks may amount to as much as 5,000 points. Indeed it is possible to lose as much with penny points as Siberian whist as at bridge with points at a shilling.

Making It Rather Personal.

This is credited as one of General Lew Wallace's Turkish jokes: There lived in Stambul, Turkey, a well-to-do Turk named Ismail Ismail Ismail. He was endowed with oriental wit that stood him well in hand when he was in a tight place. A neighbor called on Ismail one day and wanted to borrow his donkey to use an hour. Ismail made a low salaam and said:

"Neighbor, I am sorry, but my boy (the donkey) was under the same roof as Ismail's house, but in the rear. The neighbor said:

"Ah, I hear your donkey bray." Ismail protested that his neighbor's ears were deceived and that the noise was not a donkey's bray. Then the donkey, which was supposed to be logging along toward Stambul, brayed twice loudly. It was too much, and the neighbor cried:

"Oh, that is your donkey, Ismail. Allah help me, I can now borrow him." Then Ismail said:

"Which do you believe, is lying, the donkey or me?" The neighbor had to give Ismail the benefit of the doubt and went away.

Why Spiders Are Not Insects. The spider is not an insect, though probably many people out of ten would class it under this term. With arachnids and mites spiders form a class in the animal kingdom known as Arachnida. This name is derived from a mythical personage called Arachne, the daughter of a purple dyer of Lydia, who was fabled to have challenged Minerva to a trial of skill in spinning. So indignant was the goddess at this act of boldness that she forthwith transformed the hapless challenger into a spider, presumably in order that she might have the best possible opportunity of practicing the art on which she prided herself so much.

Spiders differ from insects in five main particulars. Their eyes are simple instead of compound, they have eight legs in place of six, they do not pass through the metamorphoses which are characteristic of insects, they have no antennae and their breathing is accomplished by means of organs which combine the functions of lungs and gills, instead of by tubes pervading their bodies. These points of distinction are sufficient to determine the fact that it is impossible to class spiders as insects.

A Literal Construction. In a school for colored children there was a little boy who would persist in saying "have went," says a contributor to The Christian Endeavor World. The teacher kept him in one night and said:

"Now while I am out of the room you may write 'have gone' 50 times." When the teacher came back, he looked at the boy's paper and there was "have gone 50 times." On the other side was written, "I have went home."

Had Lost His Fourth. One of Judge Leland's stories had to do with the old Maine farmer who had been married four times. Shortly after the death of his fourth wife a neighbor stopped him and said:

"Mornin', Cyrus. How's the wife this mornin'?" "Waal, to tell ye the truth," replied Cyrus, "I'm kinder out of wives just now."—Detroit Free Press.

Similar, but Different. "Do you think I am capable of acting a part?" asked the stagestruck youth.

"I do," replied the busy manager. "and the farther apart we are when you act the better it will suit me."—Chicago News.

STORIES OF THE STAGE.
Coming Attractions, Gossip in the Lobby and Boxes

A charming Operetta, "The House that Jack Built," will be given in this city June 14th and 15th under the auspices of the Paris Federation of Clubs for the benefit of the public library fund. This Operetta has recently been given in Louisville with great success. The one hundred and fifty children in the Operetta will be trained by Miss Margaret Martin of Chicago. Miss Martin will hold her first rehearsal to-morrow morning at 9:30 in Miss Tipton's school room.

The entertainment to be given by the Pickwick Club at the Opera House on Friday, May 24th, will and should be liberally patronized. It will be remembered that last Summer Mr. and Mrs. McCann gave an entertainment here for the benefit of the Public Library fund which netted that cause one hundred and fifty dollars. For that reason, if for none other, they should be liberally patronized next Friday. The entertainment will be a high class one. Mr. and Mrs. McCann will appear in a sketch written for them by Miss Pearl Hammond, dealing with local life in Paris, entitled "Wanted a Wife." Mr. G. D. Mitchell has written a very clever sketch entitled "Edgewood" which will be produced by Miss Hammond and himself. Ruth and Clara the clever little juvenile performers will also appear, as will the Paris Mandolin Club. Altogether it will be a very enjoyable entertainment.

March 17th at the station. High up on the L. & N. range there is a little station called Sherman—a mere watering place for trains on the Union Pacific railway. Near by it is a gigantic pyramid of stone 60 feet high and 60 feet square at the base, which was set up by the railway as a monument to Oakes Ames and Oliver Ames.

In the latter eighties there arrived at Sherman a shabby person of meek and choly aspect, who put up a "shack"—western for shanty—not far from the monument. Ostensibly, he was prospecting, and he continued to prospect for three years without accomplishing any results, so far as could be observed. At the end of that period the management of the Union Pacific received from him a communication demanding the immediate removal of the monument from the premises, which he claimed as his under the homestead law.

The matter was regarded in a humorous light at first, but subsequent proceedings developed the fact that the squatter had what lawyers call a "case."

The stranger, it seems, had located on a section of land which did not belong to the Union Pacific—the same section on which the monument was by an inadvertence, been placed. He knew very well what he was about, and the upshot of the affair was that the railway had to pay $5,000 for the squatter's tract in order to make its title good.

The monument, by the way, is distant only about 100 yards from the station, and it is a favorite trick of experienced persons to induce green travelers to attempt a run to the pyramid and back during the two minutes of the train's wait. In nine cases out of ten they fall on the hard track, bleeding at the nose, the air being so rarefied at that elevation of 8,300 feet as to forbid such exercise.—Saturday Evening Post.

The Coffee He Wanted.

"Lady," said the beggar, "won't you gimme a nickel to get some coffee?" The woman did so, and he started in to the neighboring saloon.

"Here," she cried, "you don't get coffee in there?"

"Lady," he replied, "dat's where yer way off. Dey keeps it on de bar wid de cloves an orange peel."—Philadelphia Record.

Look in Your Mirror

Do you see sparkling eyes, a healthy, bright skin, a sweet expression and a graceful form? These attractions are the result of good health. If they are absent, there is nearly always some disorder of the distinctly feminine organs present. Healthy neutral organs mean health and beauty everywhere.

McELREE'S Wine of Cardui makes women beautiful and healthy. It strikes at the root of all menstrual trouble. There is no menstrual disorder, ache or pain which it will not cure. It is for the budding girl, the busy wife and the matron approaching the change of life. At every trying crisis in a woman's life it brings health, strength and happiness. It costs $1.00 of medicine dealers.

4th dam, by Pilot, Jr., sire of dam of Mand S, 2:08 3-4, Jay Eye See 2:10.

Wiggins is a deep, rich-colored bay horse of perfect conformation and possesses every trait and quality that go to make up an ideal stallion. As a 2-yr-old he started in six races and won five straight without losing a heat and could have a mark of 2:15 or better. He is a horse of magnificent style and appearance and has proven himself true to his royal pedigree in every respect. He is a young horse in the stud and thus far has had limited opportunities, but his colts show remarkable speed with pure gait and level head. According to his worth and attainments, he stands at a lower fee than any stallion in Kentucky. Send your best mare to him now if you want a trotter and a fortune.

Twenty-Four Hours of Fun

On the 12th of June all roads will lead to Paris, that being the day of the big carnival given by Garth Lodge, No. 43 A. O. U. W., to celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of the lodge. The event is now being extensively advertised throughout the county, and there will be largest crowd ever seen in Paris.

The management is sparing no expense in securing attractions, and it will be truly a day of enjoyment. One very amusing scheme which has been decided upon is the giving away of a five dollar gold piece to the first person asking for it. On that day some person, will be given a five dollar gold piece and instructed to give it to the first person who asks him for it after the town clock strikes twelve. One person is at liberty to get it as another, and the way to get it is to ask every person you meet after the clock has struck twelve to give you that five dollar gold piece.

The parade is going to be a big affair, and will be at least two miles in length. Every lodge in town is going to participate in it, and the prize which will be offered for the prettiest decorated vehicle will bring out some very pretty exhibits, especially the pony outfits. Everyone is requested to decorate their premises as lavishly as possible. It will be a splendid advertisement for the town, and will be a good thing for the merchants. The Paris Commercial Club is expected to lend its assistance in helping to entertain the visitors.

Keep the date in your mind—Wednesday, June 12th.

Hor weather is coming, but J. T. Hinton's complete stock of Refrigerators is here.

Gypsy Fortune Tellers.

A wandering band of Gypsies, who had been warned to leave Lexington, arrived in Paris Tuesday, and went into camp. The female contingent made a canvass of the town and succeeded in reaping quite a harvest from a lot of "easy marks" by "telling their fortunes."

One of their victims almost came to grief through his effort to avoid being robbed. In a spirit of fun he agreed to have his fortune told. The gypsy looked into his palm and told him to place some silver therein. He laid a nickel down, but was told it must be a piece of silver. He then produced a dollar, with the understanding that it was to be returned to him. The gypsy covered the dollar with a handkerchief and told him to place another piece of silver on top of it. He produced a half dollar. The faker then murmured a lot of incantation, made several mysterious passes, and then grabbed the money and made for the door. As she grabbed the money the gentleman grabbed her and held her around the waist with one arm, while with the other he was endeavoring to recover his money. While thus engaged the door opened and the gentleman's wife entered. It took two hours of explanations and two dollars worth of ice cream soda to straighten out matters, and during the confusion the gypsy escaped with the money.

Conclave of Knights Templar.

The State Conclave of Knights Templar convened in Lexington on Wednesday, and were given a most hearty reception by the citizens of that city. Every business house, every residence, every public building was clothed with the regalia of the order, and the walls were profusely covered with emblems and mottoes signifying Masonry.

The parade was one of the grandest sights ever seen in Lexington. The glitter of swords, the intrepid tread of the Knights, the clashing of cymbals, the prancing of gaily caparisoned steeds, with dashing riders in the saddle; the throng of drums and the music of many bands, gave the scene a touch of gaiety and pomp seldom witnessed in any land.

The ball at the Phoenix Hotel on Wednesday night was a brilliant social event. The program yesterday consisted of trolley excursions to points of interest; dedication of the corner stone of the new gymnasium at the State College; Jack rabbit race at the home of General Gentry; installation of Grand Officers and concert at Chantagay Park; reception and luncheon at Webb Commandery at Woodland Park.

They Have a Good Thing

Messrs. Edw. Bedford and Jas. Fisher, two very popular young men of this county, who have the State rights for the celebrated Franklin Butter Extractor, reports meeting with excellent success. On every night they receive testimonials of the high value placed upon the churn by the purchasers. They have sold almost the entire State by counties, and are receiving numerous letters every day inquiring about the churn. Almost every purchaser has voluntarily given a testimonial of superior quality of the churn, and the demand for them is much greater than the facilities for supplying them.

Paton, of Paris, Clerk of the Bourbon County Court and one of the very best court clerks in the State, was in Lexington a few hours today and departed for Louisville on a business trip. Everybody knows and likes "Bully," as he is known at home. He is an Elk, Knight of Pythias, Old Fellow and other kinds of animal and one of the boys.—Lexington Leader.

—The Mayville Bulletin announces that Mrs. Mary Peed, mother of Wm. Peed of this city, is improving after a very protracted illness. Col. A. J. Lovely, of Paris, was down Saturday to attend the funeral of Dr. W. L. Rowe. He is the ranking Knight of Pythias in this section.

—Miss Norma Fisk, of Vevay, Indiana, and Misses Mayne and Pauline Eton, and Thos. Wilmoth, of Paris, were guests of Mrs. N. H. Mc New, Saturday.

I AM closing out all of my line of gents furnishing goods. Call and get bargains in this line.

HARRY SIMON.

Attention, F. & A. M.

Regular meeting of Paris Lodge, No. 2, F. & A. M., to-night at 8 o'clock. Work in the Fellowcraft degree. A full attendance is urgently requested.

JOHN FEENEY, W. M.

For quick service and a first-class shine for 5 cents, all at Bourbon Bowling Alley's.

Sprinkling Outfit Sold.

The Whitlock street sprinkling outfit was Tuesday purchased by Walter Clark, who will continue the service. Mr. Clark is arranging for a more uniform service and a superior distribution of the water and will "keep the dust down," sure enough.

LOST.—Amethyst brooch, between City School and Postoffice. Leave at this office and receive reward. 3t

Great Council Imp O. R. M.

The Great Council of Kentucky Improved Order of Red Men, met in Danville last Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. They were royally entertained by the citizens of Danville and by Wyoming Tribe of that city. The next Grand Council will be held in Owensboro.

Second Hand Goods.

Mann & Fuhman have sold a team of fancy mules to an Ohio party for $400.

A Lincoln county freak is a snow-white colt with ears, mane and tail jet-black.

At Richmond, Monday, 1,300 cattle sold at 4 to 5 1/2 cents. Horses sold at $70 to $110; mules $100 and less.

The prospect for wheat, oats and grass is very fine now. The rains of last week were fine for all of them.

On last Monday, L. J. Fretwell bought at the stable of Z. T. Snitely & Co., in Lexington, a brown filly by Onward, dam Kate Time, for $230.

The stock and grain barn on W. S. Howse's farm, near Carlisle, burned Monday afternoon. It contained 1,250 bushels of corn, hay, mowers, reapers, harness and buggies. The loss is $2,500, with no insurance.

G. W. Peed, in Bath, lost $130 in sheep by dogs. In Woodford, W. J. Case had in early Spring 123 ewes and 100 lambs and on Monday had but 55 ewes and 10 lambs left after worthless dogs had visited his flocks.

Messrs. W. H. and T. L. Lillard Wednesday sold their fine farm, containing 448 acres, located three miles from Danville on the Stanford pike, to Jacob Robinson, of Garrard county, for about $30,000, possession given the tenth of June.

W. T. Overly purchased in three days last week, about 100,000 pounds of tobacco at prices ranging from 5 1/2 to 8 cents. Among the crops purchased were: Of D. G. Taylor, 35,000 pounds at 6 to 7 cents; of D. T. Morgan, 35,000 pounds at 7 cents; of J. W. Larkin & Pennett, 25,000 pounds at 6 to 8 cents.

The North Carolina experiment station has discovered that the flavor of eggs is determined by the feed. After giving the hens chopped onions for two weeks the eggs became so disagreeable in flavor that they could not be used. Wheat shorts, cottonseed meal and skim milk increases the number of eggs laid, but the eggs had a disagreeable flavor. Cracked corn and corn dough resulted in fewer eggs, but larger ones and of better flavor.

S. C. Carpenter, of Millersburg, held a special sale of horses at Atlanta, Ga., at which fifty business horses were disposed of at an average of $200. Mr. Carpenter has the finest carriage team in Kentucky, both being by Harrison Chief, bright bays, 16 hands high, that he has refused an offer of $3,000 for. They won first premium everywhere shown last fall. They are perfectly matched and attractive in every way.

CARLISLE COURT.—Not over 200 cattle offered for sale. The market was very tame. Sales were hard to make, and prices obtained not satisfactory to sellers.

E. M. Gammon, of the firm of Greens, Embury & Co., of Cincinnati, sold 35 head of stock steers to Fred Grater, price private; Cap Gillespie, of Mt. Sterling, offered 12 or 13 high grade, red and black bulls, all good individuals, only two of them sold. Milch cows sold at prices ranging from $25 to $35 per head; stock heifers from $10 to $25 per head; a lot of dry cows sold at fair prices; one sow and seven shoats sold at $30; plenty of ploughhorses on the market, but few sold at auction.

LOUISVILLE TOBACCO MARKET.—Total sales for the week 3,961, of which 3,694 were of the 1900 crop. The market during the early part of the week was very irregular, owing to the large offerings of very inferior tobacco, most of which is in very high order, but closed strong on all grades. Tobacco in good dry condition was fully 1¢ higher than Tuesday. Good tobacco were also much stronger. Most of the "hot" tobacco has been worked off and good, strong, healthy market is looked for during the next thirty days. From all reports received plants are backward, which will give the market a better tone. The French buyers were strong on tobacco suitable to their wants.

Matrimonial.

Last week, Mr. Elwood Green, of Cincinnati, a travelling salesman for a harness and saddlery house of that city, married Miss Evelyn Beaver, of Miami, Indian Territory. The bride is a full-blooded Indian girl, twenty-three years old, the daughter of a chief of one of the smaller tribes. She has been educated as any other American girl would be, and is worth $25,000 in her own right. The couple were married in Kansas City by a circuit judge.

The marriage of Miss Patton McClintock and Mr. E. O. Hays was celebrated yesterday morning at 10 o'clock at the home of her parents Mr. and Mrs. Alexander McClintock, of East Maxwell street, Lexington. The wedding was very quiet and witnessed by only the immediate family. The bride completely left immediately after the ceremony for Brunswick, Ga., where Mr. Hays is engaged in lumber business. Miss McClintock is a lovely woman, who has many friends in this city and Millersburg.

Men's and Youth's Suits.

Every Suit in our big store was made for us by regular custom tailors, and equal to the swellest made-to-order Suits between the Atlantic and Pacific. No waiting. No trying on every few days. You put it right on and wear it off. If any Suit needs something to adjust it to your body, our own tailors are on the spot to do it. The New Military Cut Suits, especially for young men, in the new tones of gray, blue and brown, with a sprinkle or slight stripe of green or red here or there is the most popular suit this season—$7.50, $10, $12, $15.

Furnishings.—Summer Shirts.

In all the land you'll not find a more complete line of Furnishings than we show. Think of all the newest shapes in Fine Silk Neckwear at 50 cents and that's our price. We don't care how much other merchants kick for breaking the price.

Hosiery and Underwear.

Any kind, any price you want—from cotton to silk. And when it comes to Negligee Shirts, there is scarcely a factory we don't represent, or a style, or pattern, or fabric, we haven't got. The Manhattan Air-Cell Shirt heads the list in price and elegance. Our 43 cent and $1.00 Shirts head the bargain list. You pay 75 cents and $1.25 elsewhere for shirts not so good.

Children's Garments.

The pride of our Big Store. Search the whole country and you will not find anything to surpass us in this Department. Whatever is new, whatever is novel, whatever is beautiful, we are the first to control it in Paris, and that's the reason so many handsome and exquisite Children's Suits, Children's Hats and Caps and Waits and Blouses and Shirts and Ties are exclusively confined to us, and can't be found anywhere else, and yet we show stylish, up-to-date Suits as low as $1.50.

Cossack Suits or Sailor Suits.

When you see one of these Suits, that have reached the acme of perfection this season, you forget that you are in Paris. You feel like you were shown through the grand fashion emporiums in New York.
